

Silvermine welcomes new blood

Each year a jury of artists elects new members to Silvermine. The high percentage of mixed media artists this year signifies a continued dedication to diversification away from traditional materials and subject matter. Eight new Silvermine artists work in mixed media; five artists were selected in the painting and drawing categories; four are printmakers; three are sculptors, and there is a photographer and a fiber artist.

Arle Sklar-Weinstein of Hastings on Hudson, N.Y. displays a stunning complex mixed media work, "Finding Myself in Santa Fe," reflecting the peeling of layers to spiritual self-discovery and the holistic integration between the inner psyche and the outer environment.

The Silvermine New Members Show, "Vertical Visions" and "Lifeline" will be on view through Feb. 6. Every Wednesday from noon-1 p.m., Lunch at Silvermine offers a Walk and Talk by exhibiting artists. Gallery hours are: Tuesday-Saturday, 11 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday, 1-5 p.m. The Guild Galleries are located at 1037 Silvermine Road in New Canaan. Call 966-9700.
